Office Introduction

Star Lighting Accessories Co., Ltd. (STAR) is a sole proprietorship enterprise that specializes in the production of electrical and lighting plastic accessories. The company focuses on innovation, and has gradually developed into a professional and industrial producer through strict management, reliable reputation, sincere attitude, and high-quality service. We have a skilled workforce with excellent technical and professional qualities, as well as a group of engineers and leaders with strong technical and managerial capabilities.

Professional Quality Services

Office Introduction

To further ensure professionalization and excellent service of products, Star Point has teamed up with EA Company to jointly develop and produce high-end products that meet European standards. EA Company is a large-scale lighting socket manufacturer located in San Marino, with a good reputation and ISO9001, 2000 certifications. It has a complete range of sockets suitable for various lighting applications, and all series have obtained ENEC certification, ensuring smooth sales in 20 European countries.

Faced with the achievements we have made, we are not satisfied. We are more willing to embrace new challenges, overcome difficulties, and adopt the latest technological concepts to develop new products. We will continue to strengthen the operation and management models of the company, making it a partner with market competitiveness and customer trust.

In the future, EA and Star will continue to maintain close contact with new and existing customers, following our consistent principles, and wish both our customers and ourselves a successful outcome!
